REPORT ON ONE DAY INDUSTRIAL VISIT

Industry Name: SHIRJI AGRO TECH RICE MILL INDUSTRY Pvt Limited, Raichur.

Date: 11-12-2023

INTRODUCTION

There are around 35000 rice mills in India. Most of the rice mills are small and use very low cost low efficiency equipment's. However, for a majority of these Indian Rice mills, the connected load is less than or around 500 KW and steam demand is lower than 3-4.

SHIRJI AGRO TECH RICE MILL INDUSTRY Pvt Limited, Raichur is having an area of 20 acres of land with an enormous production capacity. Three shifts of work is carried out per day in which 3000bags of rice is produced in each shift, each bag weighing 25 kgs. Thus on an average 1,80,000 kgs of rice is produced in 3000 bags per day. One of the major constraints in the production process is energy consumption. A huge amount of energy is consumed in the production process which costs a lot. The Rice Mill pays an average electricity bill of Rs. 8,00,000 every month.

If energy conservation in the process of production is done, then there would be a minimization of cost. As far as the energy conservation is concerned, we would like to share our learning & experiences from these assignments.

PROCESS OF THE UNIT

The rice has to be processed in mill for removing their husk before it can be consumed. There are two types of processing- raw rice processing and parboiled rice processing. Here, parboiled rice processing is carried out.

PARBOILED RICE PROCESSING

Partial cooking of grain, to impart required hardness to withstand milling operation, with husk intact, is Parboiling. Thus, it is a process of treatment of paddy by soaking, gelatinizing and drying prior to milling. There are mainly two systems of parboiling on commercial scale:

Once Steamed Paddy: In this system, paddy is soaked in large vessels (handies); no direct steaming of paddy is done. This system is now being replaced by second system.

Twice Steamed Paddy: Here, paddy is steamed both before & after soaking in handies. This system is most commonly used these days as it has numerous advantages over the previous system

PROCESSING

The processing units are under fallows:

Stage-1. Pre Cleaning: removing all impurities and unfilled grains from paddy.

Stage-2. De-stoning: separating small stones from paddy.

Stage-3. Parboiling (optional): helps in improving the nutritional quality by gelatinization of starch inside the rice grain. It improves the milling recovery percent during deshelling and polishing / whitening operation.

Stage-4. Husking : Removing husk from paddy.

Stage-5. Husk Aspiration : Separating the husk from brown rice/unhusked paddy.

Stage-6. Paddy Separation: separating the unhusked paddy from brown rice

Stage-7. Whitening: Removing all or part of the bran layer and germ from brown rice.

Stage-8. Polishing: improving the appearance of milled rice by removing the remaining bran particles and by polishing the exterior of the milled kernel.

Stage-9. Length grading: Separating small and large brokens from head rice.

Stage-10. Blending: mixing head rice with predetermined amount of brokens, as required by the customer.

Stage-11. Weighing and bagging: preparing the milled rice for transport to the customer

A REPORT ON ONE DAY INDUSTRIAL VISIT

Industry Name: SHIRJI AGRO TECH RICE MILL INDUSTRY Pvt Limited, Raichur.

Date of visit:- 01-06-2023

INTRODUCTION

There are around 35000 rice mills in India. Most of the rice mills are small and use very low cost low efficiency equipment's. However, for a majority of these Indian Rice mills, the connected load is less than or around 500 KW and steam demand is lower than 3-4.

SHIRJI AGRO TECH RICE MILL INDUSTRY Pvt Limited, Raichur is having an area of 20 acres of land with an enormous production capacity. Three shifts of work is carried out per day in which 3000bags of rice is produced in each shift, each bag weighing 25 kgs. Thus on an average 1,80,000kgs of rice is produced in 3000 bags per day. One of the major constraints in the production process is energy consumption. A huge amount of energy is consumed in the production process which costs a lot. The Rice Mill pays an average electricity bill of Rs. 8,00,000 every month.

If energy conservation in the process of production is done, then there would be a minimization of cost. As far as the energy conservation is concerned, we would like to share our learnings & experiences from these assignments.

PROCESS

RICE has to be processed in mill for removing their husk before it can be consumed. There are two types of processing- raw rice processing and parboiled rice processing. Here, parboiled rice processing is carried out.

PARBOILED RICE PROCESSING

Partial cooking of grain, to impart required hardness to withstand milling operation, with husk intact, is Parboiling. Thus, it is a process of treatment of paddy by soaking, gelatinizing and drying prior to milling. There are mainly two systems of parboiling on commercial scale:

- Once Steamed Paddy: In this system, paddy is soaked in large vessels (handies); no direct steaming of paddy is done. This system is now being replaced by second system.
- Twice Steamed Paddy: Here, paddy is steamed both before & after soaking in handies. This system is most commonly used these days as it has numerous advantages over the previous system.

STATGES OF PROCESSING

Stage 1. Pre Cleaning: removing all impurities and unfilled grains from paddy.

Stage 2. De-stoning: separating small stones from paddy.

Stage 3. Parboiling (optional): helps in improving the nutritional quality by gelatinization of starch inside the rice grain. It improves the milling recovery percent during deshelling and polishing / whitening operation.

Stage 4. Husking : Removing husk from paddy.

Stage 5. Husk Aspiration : Separating the husk from brown rice/unhusked paddy.

Stage 6. Paddy Separation: separating the unhusked paddy from brown rice

Stage 7. Whitening: Removing all or part of the bran layer and germ from brown rice.

PRINCIPAL
S.S.R.G. Women's College, RAICHUR

Principal: Sri. Amaregouda. S., M.A., M.Phil

Stage 8. Polishing: improving the appearance of milled rice by removing the remaining bran particles and by polishing the exterior of the milled kernel.

Stage 9. Length grading: Separating small and large brokens from head rice.

Stage 10. Blending: mixing head rice with predetermined amount of brokens, as required by the customer.

Stage 11. Weighing and bagging: preparing the milled rice for transport to the customer

Par Boiling Process flow in rice mills generally consists of following steps in sequence:

- ❖ Paddy Procurement
- ❖ Dust Paddy Cleaner
- ❖ Storage Tank
- ❖ Bottles/Handies
- ❖ Direct Steam for 20 Min.
- ❖ Soaking Of Paddy in Hot Water (At 80o C) For 4-6 Hrs.
- ❖ Draining Hot Water From The Bottles
- ❖ Direct Steam for 10 To 15 Min.
- ❖ Drying in Closed Dryers for 6-8 Hrs.
- ❖ De-huskers/Milling
- ❖ Screening Of Rice And Separation Of Husk & Dust, Husk Bagging
- ❖ Rice Grain Screening
- ❖ Polishing
- ❖ Magnetic Separation & Screening, Rice Bran Bagging
- ❖ Grading & Sorting
- ❖ De-toning
- ❖ White Quality Rice Screening
- ❖ Bagging & Dispatch

HISTORICAL VISIT TO NAVARANG DARWAZA.

Today we had visited Raichur fort's northern gate "Navarang Darwaza". My history man, has guided us about the Navarang Darwaza. The 5-gates Darwaza of Raichur fort are Navarang in the north, Kati in the east, Khandak in the South, Doddi in the south-west & Melca in the West.

The main things we have seen are Courtyard Central Courtyard & museum, monument entrance & open air museum. We are very close to the curved entrance, but a grill gate blocked our path. Walls are solid & well curved with beautiful designs.

Navarang Darwaza was built in 1294 CE. The gateway is revered by the Hindus because of the presence of sculptures depicting various scenes from Hindu epics like Mahabharata & Ramayana. The central courtyard with a viewing gallery on one side. A huge net is fixed to keep out pigeons.

Sculptures of various forms of Narasimha seen on lower parts of columns. There were many statues of god & goddesses, such as Vishnu-Laxmi, Ganesha, Hanuman, Vaishnava monk, Hero-stones. A damaged slab with Telugu inscription. Beyond the fort walls are modern buildings. The inner side of the Security Complex.

That's Raichur fort's innermost & highest point as seen from Navarang Darwaza.
